Be careful what you wish for this Christmas. Thanks to Designability's groundbreaking WizzyBug powered wheelchair for the under-fives, 4-year-old Evie's severe cerebral palsy no longer stops her from joining in with the other kids and getting up to all sorts of mischief.

Designability uses the power of design and innovation to create life-changing products. As well as the WizzyBug (pictured), Designability has developed a Day Clock that helps people with dementia maintain their daily routine, and custom bikes to help people with restricted growth enjoy the great outdoors.

The House has teamed up with Designability to raise awareness of this important national charity. Designability relies heavily on donations to research and develop its products, so if you would like to support life-changing innovation this Christmas, please visit:

In the New Year, we will also be giving some of our time to help Designability with its brand and messaging, helping the charity to grow and carry on transforming lives.
